

To whom it may concern,

This letter is to express my interest in your vacant position, Junior Java Developer, which was recently advertised on your website. Upon reading the job description I am confident that I would be a perfect fit for this position as my experience & abilities precisely match your requirements.

The background that I come with is quite unique and distinctive which also makes me an exceptional candidate for this position. I possess a strong desire to build a career within your company and to acquire more knowledge and experience by performing well in the job role. These points coupled with my proven ability to act as a key point of contact with existing and potential clients, have prepared me well for a position at your company. My core strengths include, but are not limited to the following:

- Working knowledge of all phases of software development life cycle and testing methodologies.
- Provide improvements to the tracking and reporting status of the system, and design and develop commissioning test suites to provide functional and performance validation.
- Possess outstanding oral and written communication skills in both technical and client facing situations.

For additional information on my capabilities, kindly refer my resume that has been attached here.

I currently seek to work for a reputable and exciting company like yours where there will be a big stage for my talents. Therefore, I would welcome the chance of an interview, where we would be able to discuss in greater detail the value and strength I can bring to your already successful company.

I thank you for your valuable time and very much am looking forward to hearing from you.

Yours sincerely
